Passion, but also commitment

The production of top-quality, custom printed advertising materials of paper has been our true passion. For more than 20 years now, it has invariably been a source of satisfaction and pride for us. Over the time, we have gained extensive experience and expertise which guarantee the best quality of our products, yet we also remain flexible and innovative in what we do.

We do our best to maintain excellent relationships with all our business partners, since we know very well that good cooperation is the key to success!

Mission

In order to respond to the changing market needs, we have defined three areas in which we have combined our passion, experience and commitment – the areas in which we will invest our efforts in resources in the future.

Our knowledge

All that we do is based on good knowledge of our customers' needs and expectations.

Innovativeness

We pursue our passion through innovative solutions and products.

Creating flexible opportunities

We focus on creating flexible opportunities aligned with the needs and expectations of customers from various industries and sectors of the economy.

We keep expanding our product range for your convenience.

Please contact us also when you want to create your own, unique collections.

We look forward to working with you!

Sticky notes

Sticky notes are very simple and economic advertising products, an ideal solution whenever we need to write down something important. They help us get better organized both at work and in personal life. Custom printed self-adhesive notes are both excellent advertising media and practical and economic work tools.

Sticky notes sets

Generally small in size, but visually attractive sets of notes and index tabs are advertising products which offer a whole range of personalisation options.

They are available with both soft and hard cover, in boxes with paper and PET index tabs and with a number of additional accessories, like a pencil or elastic band closure.

Amid this large category of products, there is a set of hardcovered self-adhesive notes with the catalogue number PM100. This is our absolute bestseller. PM100 can be made in many different versions, using a variety of components and finishing materials.

Calendars

We offer an attractive range of desktop calendars. Due to their smart appearance, usefulness and long life, they are highly appreciated advertising products.

Depending on the preferences, calendars can be produced with hard or soft covers, with a wire-o binding or with glued edges. They always contain sticky notes and page flags.

Almost every element of the calendar can be personalized. You can also choose from our offer of ready-to-use calendar templates.

Notes sets

The notes sets usually consist of one bigger notebook and a number of smaller notepads, plus a set of page flags.

The product is equally useful in daily office work and during training events and conferences. Notes sets can be offered with glued edges, with a wire-o binding or can be attached to the cover with a clip, which makes it possible to add and take out the sheets with notes at any time.

The hardcover used in the majority of products from this group offers extensive personalization opportunities, but also protects the content against damage and adds to the visual attractiveness of the product.

Conference sets and desk pads

The distinctive feature of conference sets and desk pads versus most of other advertising products in this catalogue is their large size. Large size means a lot of space for custom printing.

Thanks to the hardcover, conference sets are more durable and the universal clip which can be used to attach any notes or sheets makes the products used more extensively, for a long period of time.

Eco-friendly products

This is a category of advertising products with a common underlying message which is respect for the natural environment. Care for the environment is something that brings together manufacturers and users who share the common awareness of the need to protect natural resources.

The components and materials used in their production process come from recycling. The characteristic appearance of the products highlights their natural origin and enhances the advertising message.

Grass and coffee paper products

Ecological paper containing up to 30% grass fibers is available in two qualities that enable the production of hard and soft covers. Grass paper is also available as self-adhesive eco-friendly paper grade. Potential clients will appreciate your environmentally conscious stance and view it as a credit to your brand.

Agro-industrial coffee waste can be used to make paper, contributing to a decrease in deforestation. They are suitable for both soft and hard covers of sticky notes sets, Mindnotes notebooks and diaries. Visible spots of coffee add character to this paper, thanks to which your notebooks will garner attention due to their unique look.

Newapple products

Newapple cover material contains up to 39% organic waste from apple processing such as stems, seeds, apple peels and fibers. The residues are first dried, transferred to a fine cellulose powder, mixed with a bioplastic and applied in layers to a carrier such as cotton.

In Newapple paper up to 15% of the cellulose from trees is replaced by organic waste. It is ecological, sustainable and 100% recyclable.

The new raw materials answers both the local apple-waste issue and the increasing demand for vegan leather alternative with a low carbon footprint.

Mindnotes® sewn notebooks

Mindnotes® sewn notebooks are an unique, minimalist option for brands that value ecological solutions. The soft cover is made of paper from the Organic Spirit line – an eco-friendly paper with about 15% of the pulp replaced by plant-based waste. The paper contains 40% post-consumer recycled cellulose and is biodegradable and recyclable.

In production process by-products from kiwi, almonds, olives, hazelnuts, coffee, cherries, lavender, coconut and cocoa are used.

The notepad features striking thread stitching on the spine, with the thread colour either matching or contrasting with the cover colour.
